AiSP AI x DevSecOps Meetup 2025 16 July 2025

Join us for an engaging evening at the upcoming AiSP AI & DevSecOps Special Interest Group (SIG) Meetup, where industry professionals and enthusiasts come together to explore the intersection of artificial intelligence and secure software development practices.

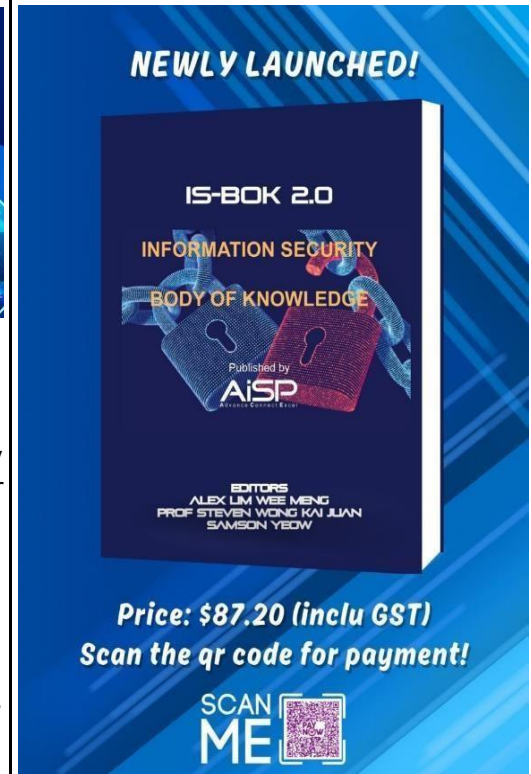

The session will begin with networking over dinner, followed by welcome remarks from our SIG Leads, Tam and Stanley. Attendees can look forward to insightful presentations, including a deep dive into securing AI systems through threat modeling and testing by a GovTech lead engineer, and a discussion by Trend Micro on how they support clients in navigating AI and DevSecOps challenges with real-world use cases.

We'll conclude the evening with a closing address by Stanley, wrapping up a night of meaningful dialogue, learning, and community building.

Whether you're exploring AI integration or enhancing your DevSecOps approach, this meetup offers valuable perspectives and connections to help you stay ahead in the evolving tech landscape.
